

Turner Industries at Shell Deer Park Celebrates One Year and One Million Man-hours without a Recordable

Turner Industries' Maintenance and Capital Group at Shell Deer Park recently celebrated one year and over one million man-hours without a recordable incident. The celebration took place onsite Wednesday, August 19, 2009. The Goode Company catered the celebration, and provided Texas style barbeque with all the fixings. The one year recordable free milestone was achieved August 12, 2009. We achieved one million man-hours without a recordable the week of July 13, 2009. Each employee at the site was given a commemorative Turner Industries hat celebrating the success. We also awarded door prizes to our valued employees. A sincere thank you to the Shell Deer Park managers joined who us for the celebration: Aamir Farid-General Manager, Rhoman Hardy-Site Maintenance Manger and Brett McGregor-Central Maintenance Manager.

We greatly appreciate the dedication, commitment and hard work by all our employees at Shell Deer Park to continue to strive for our "Goal Zero Incident Performance". It truly has been a team effort.
